17TH SUNDAY OF THE YEAR

The Treasure we have found

"The farmer sells everything he owns and buys the field."
In the Gospel reading of this Sunday, Jesus is calling on us to look at our priorities and set them straight. And that's easier said than done! How do we know what our priorities are? The first test is what we spend our time at. If, for example, a couple want to make their marriage a priority, each one must be willing to invest time in their relationship. This time needs to be regular, good, creative time. Many couples do not give that time to each other. The same is true of family life. Time is the first and greatest gift of parents to their children. The second test of priorities is what we are passionate about. There are many sports widows in our country because this is what so many men are passionate about rather than their sacred commitments to marriage and family life. We can also look at this in relation to our faith commitment and the time and energy we give to those with whom we worship God. Fr. Johnny Doherty, C.Ss.R.
