THE BAPTISM OF THE LORD

Over the past few years there has been a lot of chopping and changing of Mass times in our parishes. The timetable, which will be announced in the newsletters next weekend, will be the definitive version. I don't imagine it will please everyone, but I'll try to explain the rationale behind it.

I am trying to serve the people of these parishes on my own. When there were three priests in Greenlough and Bellaghy, and many more priests in the neighbouring parishes, it was easy to offer Mass at a variety of times, and easy to get cover for holidays, illness, or other absences. Since that is no longer the case it's necessary to reduce the number of weekend Masses to a level where they can be celebrated by one priest.

Alternating Masses in these parishes doesn't work. The "traffic" between the parishes is very much "one way." Also, there are a number of other options for people who find that the Mass times in our parishes don't suit them, and I know that some of our parishioners are now regularly attending Mass elsewhere, and some people still choose to follow Mass on the webcams.

The present timetable of five weekend Masses - two Vigil Masses and three Sunday morning Masses - is not sustainable any longer. So, I've decided that there will be one Mass in each of our three churches every weekend, with no alternating of locations.

The new timetable will come into force on the weekend of 7/8 February.
